MANITOBA AND SASK. LEAGUE TO BE FORMED

Meeting Will Be Called in Regina to Consider the Advantages of Forming a League of Manitoba and Saskatchewan Clubs.

Another proposed league composed entirely of Saskatchewan and Manitoba cities is being projected by the business managers of these two provinces. A meeting will be called in Regina within ten days to talk the matter over at which the principal cities of Manitoba, and Saskatchewan will be represented. No Alberta cities will be admitted into this league.

Whether this proposed league will become an actual fact, it is not known as if the I.H.C. fails to come in on the deal they would not be much chance of running it. In the event of Winnipeg refusing to enter the league, Jack Shuster's plan of an inter-provincial league will be heard to by the other cities of the two provinces. This league would embrace such cities as Brandon, Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, and Moose Jaw.

It is thought by many of the Saskatchewan baseball fans that an inter-provincial league is the only way to get the game into the North. Northern league would be a great boon for baseball in Western Canada.

SECRET SESSION OF COUNCIL DISMISSAL OF SUPERINTENDENTS

No Drastic Action Will be Taken—Council Cannot Interfere in Matter

ALD. J.D. HYNDMAN SUGGESTS
RESIGNING TO TEST FEELING

Bouillon is Criticized For Not Taking the Mayor Into His Confidence

Stormy scenes marked the meeting of the city council this morning at the council chamber. The council members of Superintendents McNaughton and Hargrave were discussed. Every member of the council was present. Mayor Armstrong presiding. The debate was carried on behind closed doors and lasted for upwards of three hours. At 10 o'clock, Aldermen McKelvey, McNeane and Hyndman withdrew from the meeting, the remainder continuing the discussion informally with Mayor Armstrong for another half hour.

The vexation of certain of the aldermen over the council this morning was generally expressed, and there were opinions that the council should not be left entirely in the dark on such an important matter.

The stand was taken by several members that the council should not morally bound to give a satisfactory explanation of their action to the council and Commissioner Bouillon was warmly criticized for not having taken Mayor Armstrong more fully into his confidence. It is probable that when the letters of the superintendents to the council are received tonight that unless an explanation of the dismissal of Messrs. McNaughton and Hargrave is proffered by the council, the council will be likely that one be made. It is also likely that notice of motion to take steps to have the city charter amended by the Legislature to prevent a similar situation arising in the future will be made.

Mayor Armstrong, in reply to a motion, declared that he could give the council any assurance that an explanation of their action would be given to the council at the next meeting.

Alderman Hyndman argued that the council had no right to interfere in the dismissal of Messrs. McNaughton and Hargrave. Both the city charter and a by-law passed last year definitely defined the powers of the council and their relation to the council. He said that the council had no right to interfere in the dismissal of Messrs. McNaughton and Hargrave.

At the time the majority of the council had pointed out to Alderman Hyndman that the action of the council was very undesirable and would seriously compromise any effort on the part of the council to make a proper decision among the civic employees.

"I am now convinced I was wrong at that time," Alderman Hyndman said. "I believe that the council was right, and I now want the council to live up to their decision at that time."

Alderman Hyndman suggested resigning to test public opinion on the matter of retaining or abolishing the council, again.

SENATE WAS THE TOPIC DISCUSSED

LANCASTER INTRODUCES MOTION IN OTTAWA HOUSE CALLING FOR ITS ABOLITION.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Private members' day brought out a hot debate on a motion of Mr. Lancaster to abolish the Upper House but the measure did not receive much support, members of both sides of the House expressing themselves in favor of nothing more than drastic reforms.

Mr. Van der Pyl was taken on the motion which was declared "lost on division."

During the earlier part of the session, a large number of questions were answered and Mr. Van der Pyl was criticized for having allowed the Washington authorities to announce the result of the tariff negotiations before they were given out at Ottawa.

Mr. Fielding said it could not be otherwise, because of the Canadian custom of not intruding the House of men matters.

A bill to incorporate the Security Trust Company of Regina was under discussion for some time, the house showing an inclination in view of the recent happenings in banking circles to tighten up on legislation in respect to these companies. An amendment by Mr. Foster that the first directors should be bona fide and not dummy was accepted.

The Duty on Paper.
At the opening of the House, Mr. MacLean asked if the reported interpretation of the agreement between the Canadian and the United States commissioners that paper would be on the free list was correct.

Mr. W. S. Fielding replied that they would have to leave their American friends to make their own interpretation of the agreement between the Canadian side of the line, they held that until the United States decided paper free from all parts of the Dominion, it could not come into Canada free.

Mr. Thompson, North Lanark, read from the Atlantic interest in a dispatch which said that an order had been issued by the department of Public Works to have the Union Jack fly over public buildings all over the country.

Mr. Pugsley said that no general order had been given on this subject.

Knowledge Deutscher Report.
Mr. E. Knowles, Moose Jaw, on a question of privilege referred to statements in several newspapers that for four sessions he had had on the order a resolution calling for a reduction of the duty on agricultural implements and had never moved this resolution. It lay there simply to cause a discussion of the question of lowering of the tariff.

Mr. Knowles said that even the Toronto Globe had taken this view of it. He declared, however, that this was a fact. The resolution had only been on the order for two sessions. During the session before last it was not called, whereas last session he had had the intention of bringing it before the House and he had had requested inquiries from the opposition side of the House as to the propriety of not thinking that there was still another private member's day. He had given way to Gerald V. White, of North Battleford, who wanted to bring another question before the House. Afterward he discovered that there was no other private member's day. He had not used it as a means for blocking a discussion.

Mr. White corroborated Mr. Knowles' statement.

Farmer's Bank Again.
Hon. Geo. E. Foster asked whether the minister or any official of the finance department had received any communication before issuing a certificate to the Farmers' Bank, giving warning or suggestion an equity as to the standing of the promoters of the bank or the manner in which its deposits with the Government was secured.

Mr. Fielding replied that the Government did not receive in any form information which would afford ground for the refusal of a certificate. At one stage of the proceedings, some shareholders through their solicitors asked to have the proceedings delayed until they could be heard, but this was afterwards withdrawn. After the certificate had been issued, a communication from the Canadian Bankers' association bearing the same date as the issue of the certificate reached the department saying that there was some question as to the propriety of the issue of the certificate. The procedure in the case of the certificate was precisely the same as in other cases.

The bill to incorporate the Security

Trust Company of Regina was up in committee and some of the clauses were held over for further consideration.

The Senate Discussed.
A. E. Lancaster, in moving a resolution calling for the abolition of the Senate said that he would not concede that he was a second chamber in Canada since Confederation we should continue to have one. There is no weight of argument, he said, in the fact that the Upper House is an institution forty years old. Had the fathers of Confederation really had the intention of creating a second chamber, they would not have decided on a second chamber. They thought it would be a safeguard against the passage of ill-considered legislation and provided it as a "cooling" place for dangerous enactments.

Mr. Lancaster went on to say that the people who claim that there is a necessity for a second chamber as for the British House of Lords are wrong. They are talking about the House of Lords as a bulwark between the Commons and the King who might be forced to abdicate by a permanent Commons. The Senate is supposed to exist to correct bad laws passed by the Commons and to protect minorities. As all Canadian legislation has to be passed upon by the home government, the necessary protection could be given by that body. Besides the members of the Commons being members of an elective chamber are more directly responsible and are more likely to protect their interests than the appointed members of the Senate.

Mr. Lancaster then proceeded to argue that the Senate fails in its duty to protect minorities. He instated his bill to protect level crossing. After four years' discussion the Committee from Sir Wilfrid Laurier down to the most recently elected back-benchers adopted it unanimously. Although the bill was in the interest of municipalities who might richly be entitled to a modification. In this instance, thirty Senators had defied the will of 271 members of the Commons and the sixteen Senators who supported the bill in the Upper House.

Opposed Resolution.
Alex McCall, Norfolk, opposed the resolution but thought the Senate should be reformed. His strongest objection was the appointment, while it was so unfortunate to see such an overwhelming majority with one political party. He advocated a six year term.

Mr. Wilfrid's Defense.
Sir Wilfrid Laurier in taking up the defense of the Senate, pointed out that this was the third session in which Mr. Lancaster had introduced the resolution and while he had no doubt that he was sincere, he hoped that next year he would present some plan of reform that would be acceptable to the House.

He asked, "Is it advisable or not?" Sir Wilfrid asked, "that the whole legislative power of this country should be reposed in one chamber. If Mr. Lancaster were in England, would he be in favor of the abolition of the Lords?" "I would not," replied Mr. Lancaster. "Because they have no other thinking place, but we have the Imperial Parliament."

Mr. Wilfrid contended that the remedy of disallowance which Mr. Lancaster proposed would be far worse than no check at all on legislation. It certainly would not improve the relations between Canada and the Mother Country.

"Would my honored friend take the stand that as a check upon the province of Ontario we ought to disallow the legislation of the province of Ontario?"

Mr. Lancaster, he added, he thought would be the first to object for the same reason. The time limit contained that the will of the people of Canada as expressed in the House of Commons should not be substituted for the will of the Imperial Parliament. He thought that a reformed Senate partly elective and partly appointed would suit better.

Dr. Sprague Agrees.
Dr. Sprague was very much of the Premier's opinion and it would be wise for Canada to try and get along without a second chamber. Of one thing Sir, Sprague was confident, that the time has arrived when the people of Canada should apply themselves to the task of bringing about a reformed Senate. He thought that the time has arrived when the people of Canada should apply themselves to the task of bringing about a reformed Senate.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster ended from a liberal newspapers to show that a demand for Senate reform was general and pointed out that there are only 29 Conservatives out of 17 members in the Upper House which was almost. The whole difficulty was in two questions—the mode of appointment and the tenure of office. Mr. Sprague said that a strong committee appointed from both Houses to take the matter up and report to the Government on a basis of reform.

Mr. Monk in supporting the resolution said that the present constitution of the Upper House was simply a relic of a bygone era and that it was a useless appendage to the parliamentary system. The motion was lost on division.

The Quebec Bridge.
In reply to a question by R. L. Borden, to the completion of the Quebec bridge, Mr. Monk Graham replied that various tenders had named dates from June 1914 to December 1916, all contingent upon the money being completed by November 1913. He estimated the value of the steel used in the old bridge at $10 per ton scrap price. This would make the material worth about $11,000. The steel in the new steel is valued at $100,000.

THREE HUNDRED KILLED IN THE PHILIPPINES

Earthquakes and Eruption of Mount Taal Have a Fatal Result—Five Villages Obliterated and Three Partially Destroyed by Tidal Wave Following Shocks.

Manila, Jan. 30.—Latest Government reports confirm the previous report that three hundred persons have been killed by the earthquake and eruption of Mount Taal. It is impossible to estimate how many natives were killed in the shock but it is known that twenty-one were suffocated and five burned. The organized relief expedition, composed of constabulary and military, surgeons have charge of the situation. Members of the expedition are camped near the lake. A majority of the inhabitants fled or were driven to safety on Friday and Saturday.

Five villages were obliterated and three partly destroyed by a tidal wave following the early shocks. Lemery and Taal are believed to have been totally destroyed. Many members of the constabulary were prostrated while attempting to rescue a few semi-civilized natives who were unwilling to abandon their homes. Many deep fissures have opened on the north shore and preliminary reports indicate that the lake bottom is sinking. The volcano is still active and the earth shocks continue frequently.

FOX WILL NOT RESIGN.
Story to That Effect is Flatly Denied in Toronto Circles.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—No credence is given to the rumor again revived, that Hon. J. J. Fox is to resign from the cabinet and quit politics on account of ill-health. His health has not been unusually bad during the last few months and in Government circles today the story that he would vacate the Attorney-Generalship may be succeeded by Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary was flatly denied.

SUCCESSOR TO JUDGE McMAHON
W. A. Tilley is mentioned for vacancy on bench of Common Pleas.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—Rumor is busy today with the name of W. A. Tilley as a possible successor to the late Mr. Justice McMahon on the bench of common pleas division of the High court of Ontario.

The many names that have been mentioned heretofore have been those of Roman Catholics and the suggestion has been put forward that the new judge should be a French Canadian.

Mr. Tilley fills neither of these requirements but he has long been recognized in Toronto as one of the most substantial of the younger generation of counsel.

Archbishop Walker.
Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—At midnight Archbishop Ryan's condition was slightly weaker, but physicians do not fear any unfavorable result.
